

DISCOVER THE LAW

A legal education program provided by Student Legal Services

What is the Discover the Law program?

Discover the Law is a legal education program comprised of a series of workshops on law-related topics. The workshops are available to all currently-registered UCSD students, including graduate and professional students. Students who complete four workshops will receive a certificate of completion and an invitation to the recognition reception during which the certificates will be awarded. Discover the Law is not offered for academic credit. Students need not be considering a career in law to participate.

Why should I participate?

- To earn a certificate that demonstrates your commitment to learning more about law and law-related issues
- To gain practical knowledge that will help you avoid legal problems
- To acquire skills and information that will help you make informed decisions
- To build your resume
- To meet professionals and other students interested in law and law-related topics

What requirements must be met to receive a certificate?

Students must attend four one-hour legal education workshops. Each workshop must be from a different subject category of four categories total: Savvy and Safe, Rights and Responsibilities, What's That?, and Jumpstart Your Career. Students will receive a program guide which describes all of the workshops offered in each category. Students will have the presenters initial their program guides at the end of each workshop they attend to verify attendance. Students must also fill out pre- and post-program questionnaires in order to receive their certificates. Students who attend eight workshops will receive special recognition.
